To Whom it May Concern:

Fragomen, Del Rey, Bernsen & Loewy, LLP represents Arizona State University with regards to its U.S. immigration matters and provides assistance to students traveling to the United States to attend classes at ASU as needed.

As confirmed by ASU's International Students and Scholars Center (ISSC), ASU is operating in an on-campus, in-person format and expects international students to be present on campus in accordance with their international student status. All I-20s issued by ASU meet the requirements for international students to apply for and obtain non-immigrant visas and meet eligibility requirements for entry into the United States.

All students are advised by ISSC to present their passport, valid visa, current Form 1-20, all other valid documents necessary for entrance to the United States, and follow CDC travel guidelines, restrictions and recommendations before they travel to the U.S.

Should any questions in regards to a student's international student status arise, decision regarding detainment, or denied entry, please contact the below:
