BUYING A CAR IN THE UNITED STATES

Before You Buy a Car
If you decide to buy a car, you can often save money if you do research beforehand. A good place to start is online. There are a variety of websites that provide a lot of helpful information about different vehicles and survey the level of customer satisfaction. Some helpful websites include: carfax.com, kbb.com, and consumerreports.org. Doing this research will help educate you about which car will fit your needs best, and will also give you an idea of what types of cars fit into your budget.

Automobile Insurance
Drivers of automobiles, motorcycles, and other motor vehicles have a financial and legal responsibility in case of an accident that involves injury or death, damage to another vehicle, or property. DO NOT DRIVE WITHOUT INSURANCE! There can be very serious legal and financial consequences if you do not have insurance.

Buying a New Car
Each car dealer offers different prices. After you choose a model, you must decide about the "options" or special features you are interested in-engine size, automatic or manual ("stick shift") transmission, and so on. Spend time looking at different cars and models, compare basic prices and added "option" costs, and get advice from experienced car buyers, not just from the salespeople.

Buying a Used Car
Used cars are less expensive than new cars, but the buyer must be willing to assume the risk of car trouble and repair costs. Check kbb.com for average prices of different years and models. You will probably be able to get the best deal on a car from a private person who advertises in the classified ads of local newspapers.

Any reputable person selling a used car will allow you to take the car to a garage mechanic not associated with the seller for a thorough inspection (called a "diagnostic check"). Mechanics usually charge $50-60 for this service.

Paying for a Car
You can often get the best price for a car by offering to pay the full amount in "cash." In this case, it means a cashier's check from a bank or travelers checks. Be suspicious of anyone asking you to bring the full amount in actual cash (bills). IT IS DANGEROUS TO CARRY LARGE AMOUNTS OF MONEY WITH YOU.

Financing
Whether buying a new or used car through a dealer, compare the cost of different methods of financing. Loans may add 20-30% to the total price of the car. If you should decide to buy on credit, it is best to do so through a credit union, bank, or savings and loan association. And remember, before signing ANY documents make certain that you understand all the details of the sale and payments required. Keep copies of all documents.

SEASONAL WEATHER IN ARIZONA/WHAT TO WEAR

Fall
While autumn descends across most of the country in September, sunny summer days linger in Phoenix. Come October, the days are warm, pleasant and perfect for outdoor fun while cool nights lend themselves to dining al fresco. We recommend wearing: long pants or jeans, long-sleeve or short-sleeve shirts, light sweaters.

Winter
Phoenix skies stay blue throughout winter with high temperatures in the 60s and 70s. Desert nights and mornings can get chilly, but the temperature rarely drops below freezing. We recommend wearing: long pants or jeans, long-sleeve shirts, jackets/coats/sweatshirts, gloves, scarves.

Spring
Phoenix’s springtime weather is consistently perfect with blooming cacti and wildflowers brightening our desert. Daytime temperatures loll around 80 degrees while evenings are comfortably cool. We recommend wearing: long pants or jeans, long-sleeve or short-sleeve shirts, light sweaters.

Summer
Hey, it’s hot. The old axiom is that “it’s a dry heat,” and there’s truth to that. The Sonoran Desert’s super-low humidity means 90-degree temperatures (32 degrees C) feel quite nice, and the arid climate causes perspiration to evaporate quickly, keeping you cooler and drier. We recommend wearing: shorts, skirts, short-sleeve shirts or tank tops, flip flops or sandals, sunglasses.

ABOUT MOVING

ABOUT LEASE AGREEMENTS
Always read carefully before signing a lease agreement. All the blank spaces on the contract should be filled in before you sign. The landlord is required by law to give you a copy of your lease.

Move-In Checklist
Get a move-in checklist from the landlord so that you can provide feedback about the condition of the new residence at the time you move in. Keep a copy of the list and give a copy to the landlord.

Breaking A Lease
You cannot just “break” the lease in the middle of a contract without being responsible for the payment of rent until the end of the lease. There are exceptions to this rule. Under month-to-month rental agreements, notice must be given thirty (30) days before. A 30-day written notice may be necessary even when your lease ends on a specific dates. NOTICES SHOULD ALWAYS BE GIVEN IN WRITING. A “lease break” fee (mentioned in some rental agreements) may or may not be enforceable in a court of law.

Lease End
At the end of your lease, you have the right to be present when the landlord does a move-out inspection. Take your copy of the move-in checklist. The landlord is supposed to return all refundable security deposits within fourteen (14) business days.

PROBLEMS AND ISSUES
If you have a problem with heat, air conditioning, roof leaks, bugs, mold, etc., and the landlord won’t fix it, consult an attorney who deals with residential landlord-tenant issues or contact the code compliance office for your city.

Chandler: (480) 782-4320
Mesa: (480) 644-4273

Eviction
Under state law, landlords may attempt to do an emergency eviction with almost no advance notice if the landlord thinks the tenant has violated certain laws. You do have some rights in this situation, but you have to act immediately to preserve those rights.

ABOUT CELL PHONES

CELL PHONE OPTIONS

When selecting a cell phone plan, you have two main options:

A two-year contract. Contract plans are more common and offer more phone or plan discounts. However, a Social Security Number (SSN) or an initial deposit is required.

A pay-as-you-go plan. These plans have slightly higher rates on outgoing calls and messaging. Pay-as-you-go plans are convenient because there is no SSN requirement.

Wireless plans are also offered from cell phone companies, but please note that plans in the U.S. are different from plans abroad. Be sure to read plan details carefully before purchasing a plan.

ABOUT BANKING

BANKING BASICS

It is a good idea to open a bank account as soon as you can. A bank account is required to conduct most business transactions in the U.S. You will need a checking account to be able to pay bills, rent, deposits for housing etc. Typically, to open a bank account you will need a social security number.

Common Types of Bank Accounts

Checking account
Useful if you have bills to pay on a regular basis (credit card, phone, rent, utilities). There is usually no minimum balance required but usually no interest earned either. Some checking accounts earn interest but usually require a larger opening balance. A monthly fee may be charged.

Savings account
Earns interest but cannot be used to write checks.

Debit Cards and Credit Cards

Debit Cards
Debit cards allow you to pay for goods and services directly from your bank account, reducing the need for cash. You can request a debit card when you open your checking or savings account or later if you decide you would like one.

Credit Cards
Requirements for obtaining a credit card and interest rates charged on unpaid balances vary among banks. Keep in mind that it is common to have a checking or savings account with one bank and a credit card with another.
